

2020.April
Start

Health Administration Center Online Counseling and Consultation

With the declaration of emergency associated with the COVID-19 pandemic, you are probably stressed from staying at home. We know that this situation can cause various psychological problems such as anxiety or depression. To help in this situation, we have started online counseling and consultations for mental issues. It is free to use, and we will maintain your information as confidential. You can make a reservation by sending an email as below. Don't hesitate to contact us anytime.

【Who】 Gifu University students

【Topic】 any consultation is available (mental health issue, interpersonal relationship, academics, personality, etc.).

【When】 weekdays, 50 minutes per session.

【Staff】 psychiatrist and clinical psychologist

Contact and Reservation

MAIL : hokencen@gifu-u.ac.jp

Send your email with your ID, department, name, preferred date, and preferred staff (if any) in your email. An “Appointment date and connection method” email will be sent to you.

email

